Performance Review and Development Plan
Chief of Staff or Professional Advisory Committee
(PAC) Chairperson

Evaluation form components

Vitalité Health Network's Chief of Staff or PAC Chairperson Performance Review and Development Plan is structured so as to ensure that goals and objectives are clearly identified, success measurements are realistic, attainable and manageable, and results are monitored over time. This is the implementation phase of a performance review model.

The objectives may include organizational objectives as well as team and personal objectives. The objectives set are expected to be communicated to other leaders, managers, and staff members of the Network.

The form is divided into three parts: work objectives, behavioural competencies, and future orientations.

- A) Part I: The work objectives are related to the specific, measurable and tangible activities required to meet the needs and strategic and operational priorities of the Network. Accountability and fundamental responsibilities described in the Chief of Staff's and PAC Chairperson's position description are the underlying expectations related to the work. The work objectives set in the evaluation are considered as objectives that are basic and exceeding requirements to fulfill accountability and fundamental responsibilities.
- B) Part II: The behavioural competencies are the behaviours expected of executives, directors and managers and they are listed in the LEADS program of the Canadian College of Health Leaders.
- C) Part III: The future orientations provide an opportunity to review the performance strengths and possibilities and they generate a prioritization mechanism for management staff [during the mid-year and end-of-year evaluation (completion of Part A)].

The objectives for the year and fundamental themes for interests related to leadership were identified, in collaboration with the Board of Directors, further to the business plan and annual plan and based on the position profile.

When establishing objectives, it is important to ensure that they can be managed by the Chief of Staff or PAC Chairperson. It is understood that the Network's capacity to meet the objectives set may depend on environmental and economic factors. In such case, the objectives in question would be reviewed and possibly revised for the target period in the plan.

Performance review system

The review is conducted at the end of the year only.

- Exceeds expectations (A) – The executive has met the work objectives set and shown the desired behavioural competencies; he or she always surpassed the expectations of the Board of Directors. The executive performed his or her work in an extremely professional, responsible and wise manner. He or she made a consistent and significant contribution to the organization.
- Is above expectations (B) – The executive has met the work objectives set and shown the desired behavioural competencies; he or she often surpassed the expectations of the Board of Directors. The executive performed his or her work thoroughly and diligently. He or she made a significant contribution to the organization regularly.
- Meets expectations (C) – The executive has met the work objectives and shown the behavioural competencies expected by the Board of Directors. The executive was competent in his or her work and made a trustworthy contribution to the organization.
- Does not meet expectations (D) – The executive did not meet the work objectives and did not show the behavioural competencies expected by the Board of Directors. His or her performance and general contribution cause concern to the organization.
